WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT HORSE RELATED ACTIVITIES

Protective Attire:

To prevent injuries, you are required to wear a well-fitted helmet, hard hat or similar equestrian protective head gear which fastens securely under the chin, while working around or riding horses.

You are required to always wear hard-soled, fully enclosed shoes or boots and socks to protect feet, and long pants to protect legs while working around or riding horses. Shirts with sleeves are also advised.

Treats:

Treat rewards may be used in elements of the training program. Feel free to bring treats that are familiar to your horse. However you are asked not to carry or offer food treats except as instructed by the clinician.

The Nature and Physical Characteristics of the Horse:

While domesticated, well trained horses are usually obedient, docile and affectionate, it is important to understand that their survival instincts are what has allowed them to survive from prehistoric time to the present day.

- 1) You are advised that horses are unpredictable by nature, with minds of their own, as are all animals both domestic and wild. The horse is excitable, high strung, and nervous by nature. Horses are extremely strong and physically powerful. Horses are extremely heavy weighing from 600 to 1,300 pounds on the average. These characteristics deserve a human being's utmost respect and caution.
- 2) You are advised that when a horse is frightened, angry, under stress or feels threatened, it is the horse's Instinct to jump forward or sideways and to run away from danger at a trot or gallop at speeds up to 35 miles per hour.
- 3) You are advised that if a horse is frightened or feels threatened from behind, it may kick straight back, sideways in either direction or even forward with either of its hind legs with tremendous force.
- 4) You are advised that if a horse is frightened or feels threatened from something or someone above it or on its back, it may hunch its back and buck in a way that could throw a rider to the ground with great force. A fall from a horse will usually be from a height of 3 to 6 feet.
- 5) You are advised that if a horse is frightened or feels threatened from the front, it may naturally react by rearing up with its front legs, strike with one or both front legs, bite with its teeth. throw its head up or from side to side or run directly over whatever it fears in front of it.
- 6) You are advised that a human must always approach a horse calmly and quietly and cautiously, preferably from near its shoulder or lower neck while talking soothingly to the horse.
- 7) You are advised that loud and/or sudden unexpected movements, dropping of or waiving of objects near a horse, approaching vehicles or animals or people, ill-fitting equipment or physical pain can provoke a horse to react according to its natural protective instincts.
- 8) You are advised that the first signs of anger or fear in a horse are the sudden tensing of the muscles of the body, possibly laying its ears flat back against its head, or quickly tossing or raising its head, swishing its tail or sudden snorting through the nostrils accompanying at least one other warning sign.
- 9) You are advised that a horse can see independently with each eye, actually looking in one direction with one eye on one object somewhere in front of it. Usually the direction the ear is pointing will tell an observer where the eye is looking on the same side, and consequently what the horse is probably concentrating on at the moment.
- 10) You are advised that a horse has two blind areas where it cannot see. A horse cannot see directly behind it, nor what it is eating. This is the reason it is best to approach a horse close to the shoulder, and never to surprise a horse from the rear or to reach first for the horse's mouth.
- 11) You are advised that while a horse is very sure-footed by nature, it may accidentally step on an object such as a human foot when it is balancing itself or turning about. Due to the horse's vision limitations, sometimes it simply may not see where your feet are and my step onto your foot. Also, if a horse is ridden or worked on unstable ground or slippery grass or other poor footing, or simply take an awkward step, it could fall down injuring a rider or handler. A horse might even fall onto the rider or handler.

As evidence that you have read the foregoing, please write out the following statement on the lines below: "I have read and I do understand the above warnings concerning protective attire and the nature and physical character of the horse."

PROGRAM SAFETY AND PARTICIPANT CODE OF CONDUCT

This is a hands-on program involving search and rescue activities. Appropriate participant behavior and the following of instructions by clinicians and staff are critical to program safety. The following safety guidelines will be strictly enforced. Failure to follow these requirements may result in your forfeiting your right to participate in the program.

1. Safety of participants and animals shall be the first priority at all times.
2. ALL participants riding or handling or riding horses shall wear appropriate helmets.
3. ALL participants handling or riding horses shall wear appropriate clothing and closed, hard sole shoes or boots.
4. EVERYONE is a "safety officer" and the same safety protocols apply as would be applicable for any SAR search activity.
5. Activities may be stopped any time there is a safety issue. In the event of a "safety stop" all participants shall secure their horses and wait for approval from the clinician-in-charge to continue.
6. Persons not registered as hands-on participants and/or who have not submitted properly completed release forms shall not be permitted except at viewing locations and times that are clearly designated.
7. Children who are not strictly supervised, dogs and other potential disruptions are not permitted. (Accommodations will be made for persons needing assistance who wish to view the activities in a location and manner that is reasonably safe.)
8. Any participant, auditor or spectator who disrupts the program or jeopardizes the safety of the participants and/or animals will be asked to leave.
9. Any participant, auditor or spectator asked to leave that refuses to do so will be removed by a Deputy County Sheriff.
10. In the event a participant or auditor is expelled from the workshop for cause (e.g., violating these Rules of Conduct), neither Least Resistance Training Concepts, Camelot Arena, or Terry Nowacki / Whirlwind Farms are under any obligation to reimburse said participant for any costs or expenses, including but not limited to costs for travel and lodging and registration, that may be claimed by the participant.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR INTEREST IN THIS PROGRAM!

IN CONSIDERATION of being given the opportunity to participate in the Horse Training Clinics given by Terry Nowacki, I, for myself, my personal representatives, assigns, heirs, and next of kin:

1. ACKNOWLEDGE, agree, and represent that I understand the nature of HORSE TRAINING activities, both mounted or while handling the horse from the ground and that I am qualified, in good health, and in proper physical condition to participate in such training.

2. FULLY UNDERSTAND that:

- (a) HORSE TRAINING ACTIVITIES INVOLVE RISKS AND DANGERS of serious bodily injury, including permanent disability, paralysis, and death ("risks");
- (b) these risks may be caused by my own actions, or inactions, the actions of others participating in the training, the condition in which the training takes place, or the negligence of the "releasees" named below;
- (c) there may be other risks and social and economic losses either not known to me or not foreseeable at this time; and I FULLY ACCEPT AND ASSUME ALL SUCH RISKS AND ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR LOSSES, COSTS, AND DAMAGES I incur as a result of my participation in the training.

3. AGREE AND WARRANT that I will examine and inspect each training session in which I take part and that, if I observe any condition which I consider to be unacceptably hazardous or dangerous, I will notify the proper authority in charge of the training session and will refuse to take part in the training session until the condition has been corrected to my satisfaction.

4. HEREBY RELEASE, discharge, and covenant not to sue Terry Nowacki, Whirlwind Farms Inc. their administrators, directors, agents, officers, volunteers and employees, and other participants, training organizers, any sponsors, advertisers, and, if applicable, owners and lessors of premises on which the training takes place (each considered one of the releasees herein) from all liability, claims, demands, losses, or damages on my account caused or alleged to be caused in whole or in part by the negligence of the releasees or otherwise, including negligent rescue operations; and I further agree that if, despite this release and waiver of liability, assumption of risk, and indemnity agreement, I, or anyone on my behalf, makes a claim against any of the releasees, I WILL INDEMNIFY, SAVE, AND HOLD HARMLESS each of the releasees from any litigation expenses, attorney fees, loss liability, damage, or cost which may incur as a the result of such a claim.

5. I also agree not to teach any of Terry Nowacki's scenting horse training methods to others for any payment or personal compensation and not to use Terry Nowacki's name for your own personal advertising.

I have read this agreement, fully understand its terms, understand that I have given up substantial rights by signing it and have signed it freely and without any induction or assurance of any nature and intend it to be a complete and unconditional release of all liability to the greatest extent allowed by law and agree that if any portion of this agreement is held to be invalid, the balance, notwithstanding, shall continue in full force.
